Why Email Marketing?

Why email marketing?

- Affordable

- Other than platform fees, it is free to communicate with your subscribers

- It works!

- Engage your subscribers, foster loyalty and (most importantly) drive revenue
- It's becoming harder & harder to reach consumers organically on social media
- Email can be easily measured than other organic efforts, allowing you to track improvements & quantify return

- Consumers prefer email

- Subscribers chose to sign up for your emails – they want to hear from you!
- Email can be less disruptive than ads or other notifications

- It's a great testing ground

- Not sure how you want to position your products or the best tagline for your brand? Email is the easiest & quickest way to see how your audience responds.

- Email addresses are valuable pieces of information

- Use email address to target them on other advertising platforms & to find lookalike audiences

“Email is a 40-year-old technology that is not going away for very good reasons — it’s the cockroach of the Internet.”

Jason Hirschhorn
CEO of REDEF

Types of Emails

Email Types & Purposes

RELEVANCE & IMPACT

Newsletters

Newsletters meant to maintain the relationship & keep the brand top-of-mind.

Examples: Product Launches; Sales

Lifecycle Campaigns

Nurturing communications sent to customers based on their stage of the lifecycle.

Examples: Welcome; Reengagement

Transactional Emails

Automated campaigns sent based on customer behaviors & actions

Examples: Abandoned Cart; Receipt

Table: Communicating Throughout the Customer Lifecycle

Lifecycle Stage	Relevant Email Campaigns	Overall Objective
Activation	Welcome Series	• Start the relationship on the right foot • Increase awareness of the brand’s differentiator • Drive greater brand consideration
Actively Searching	Abandoned Browse	• Stay top-of-mind among likely purchasers • Continue to educate prospects about the brand
Close to Purchase	Abandoned Cart Nurture to Purchase	• Seal the deal and drive revenue • Increase cart size and order value
Purchased	Post-Purchase Nurture Re-Order	• Thank the customer and build trust • Lay groundwork for future purchases • Gather reviews and feedback • Encourage the next purchase
Loyal	Surprise & Delight Birthday Referral	• Continue the conversation • Maintain the relationship • Find new occasions to stay top-of-mind
Lapsed Purchaser	Win Back	• Remind customers why they purchased before • Highlight what makes the brand different • Drive another purchase (cross-sell / upsell)
Lapsed Engager	Re-engagement Unsubscribe / Permission Pass	• Maintain a clean email list • Avoid deliverability issues • Remind previous engagers about the brand

FROM LINE

The name associated with the sender's email. It is the first piece of branding in an email.

SUBJECT LINE

The “teaser.” It is the copy that outlines the reason to open the email.

PREVIEW TEXT

The “hook.” It is typically displayed after the subject line in a subscriber’s inbox.

Email Anatomy

Getting the Open

FROM LINE

- Recognizable
- Descriptive
- Supplemental to subject line
- Try not to exceed 25 characters
- Be consistent – continue to use the best one to aid deliverability
- Need inspiration of where to start?
Check out your site navigation!

SUBJECT LINE

- Develop subject lines along with content/creative production
- Make it stand out by using special characters, all caps or emojis
- Use a compelling hook at the front
- Language should be crisp, clear and intuitive
- Test, Test, Test
- No golden rule on length

PREVIEW TEXT

- Use PHT as the “hook” – Write the SL to engage and get the open and use the PHT to “hook” them with additional reasons to open.
- Put the most important information at THE FRONT of your preview text
- Be engaging & specific
- Avoid covering everything in the email

All 3 elements need to work together to tell a story & drive the open

Template Design Best Practices

- Inbox copy should tell an enticing story & introduce email content
 - The subject line & pre-header text should work together to tell this story.
- Follow a hierarchy of information (inverted pyramid) & tell a story
 - The most important headline & CTA should be at the top of the campaign. CTAs and text should get smaller as the subscriber scrolls
 - Include a call-to-action within the preview pane (first ~600 pixels)
 - You have limited time to grab a subscriber's attention – make sure you give them a way to engage without scrolling
 - Imagery should add to the story and complement the content
- Calls-to-action should be descriptive & action-oriented
- Ensure the template is mobile-friendly & responsive
 - Test your email across multiple devices & inboxes to ensure all content renders correctly

Content Strategy Best Practices

- Build a quarterly or annual content calendar
 - This will help you prepare for upcoming holidays, seasons or other major promotions relevant to your business
 - By planning ahead of time, you can make sure that you have enough content to fill the months while still keeping your content fresh & engaging
 - Plan for 2-3 email newsletters per month

Content Strategy Best Practices

- Use a variety of content
 - Email newsletters can be used to promote products & purchasing behavior or to encourage greater interaction with the brand. Balance promotion-heavy messages with additional content to keep customers interested.

Content Strategy Best Practices

- Integrate messaging across channels

- Create a unified content & messaging strategy across all platforms. This does not mean the content has to be the exact same on every platform – different formats will work better on different platforms.
- Integrating messaging will also help make content development more efficient. A single piece of content can be reformatted & repurposed for sharing across platforms.
 - For example, when a new blog is posted on the website, use an animated gif on Facebook that leads to the blog and include a short snippet of the blog & a compelling image within an email.

Content Strategy Best Practices

- Develop “banners” for reusable messages
 - It is common for brands to have “banners” for information that they consistently share with subscribers, such as payment options, delivery options or other reminders.

Content Strategy Best Practices

- Customize email content based on audience segment & past behavior
 - Explore what options your email platform provides for segmentation, such as using past purchase behavior, past email engagement or geographic location.

Best-in-Class Newsletters

Getaway

- This travel brand does a good job of maintaining a consistent look to its newsletters while varying the content each time.
- The template aligns to best practices:
 - The header includes valuable navigation links. The CTAs vary and use descriptive, action-oriented language. The modular design is mobile- and reader-friendly.

- Announcing a Brand New Outpost
- A moment of Zen
- Simple Tips for Building Off-Time into Your Routine
- The Getaway Podcast is back
- Last Chance for 25% off an Escape

Best-in-Class Newsletters

Pressed Juicery

- Across multiple campaign types – promotions, lifecycle messages and brand announcements – the template is consistent and clean.
- A banner at the end of the email promotes delivery & pick up options. This reminder may help drive additional purchases.
- The subject lines use a variety of techniques, helping to ensure subscribers continue to open.

- New Flavor Alert 🍉
- Pressed Juicery: From Farm to Fridge.
- Start your weekend with Any 2 Juices + 2 Shots for $15
- It's National Soft Serve Day! 🍦

Holiday Marketing Tips

Most shoppers start before Thanksgiving

Start Early

- 60% of holiday shoppers start shopping before Thanksgiving
- Early shoppers are likely to spend $370 more than those who start shopping

Continue Through December

- More than half of shoppers will not complete their shopping process until December
- Late November and mid-December is when almost half the holiday shopping occurs

Early shoppers outspend late shoppers

When are you likely to begin your holiday shopping?

Source: Deloitte Insights

Online holiday sales will surge 25-35%

This year consumers will shop online

- Deloitte expects online holiday sales to increase 25-35% for the 2020 season and reach $182-$196 billion
- In 2019 eCommerce sales increased 13.6% YoY

Holiday sales will be flat

- Total retail holiday sales will increase a modest 1-1.5% YoY
- In 2019 total retail sales increased by 4.1% YoY
- 34% of merchants said they expect holiday sales to be lower than last year

How Consumers are Shopping for the Holidays

To succeed in the email marketing channel consider the following

- Start promoting the holidays early
- Increase newsletter cadence during November and December
- Ensure you have key automations setup

Start early and map out content for the entire holiday season

Email send volume increases dramatically during holidays

Email by the numbers in 2019

- 116.5 million emails were sent on Black Friday (more than any other day)
- 106 million emails were sent on Cyber Monday

Recommendation

- To capitalize on holiday shopping intent increase email send frequency to keep your brand top of mind
- Monitor KPIs like open rates and click rates to ensure you're not over sending

Ensure key email automations are setup and running during holidays

Email by the numbers in 2019

- Email is responsible for 20% of online holiday site visits
- Cart abandonment is higher than every during Black Friday and Cyber Monday, up to 74.5%

Recommendation

- Ensure you have an abandon cart and abandon browse campaign in place
- Consider adding a festive feel to abandon cart and abandon browse campaigns

Email Metrics

Email Metrics

- Open Rate
 - $\text{Open Rate} = \text{Number of People who Opened the Email} \div \text{Number of People who Received the Email}$
 - This metric gives you an indication of how interested subscribers are in hearing from you.
- Click Rate
 - $\text{Click Rate} = \text{Number of People who Clicked a Link in the Email} \div \text{Number of People who Received the Email}$
 - This metric provides an indication of how interesting the content was.
- Deliverability & Spam Issues
 - Monitor the delivery rate (number of emails delivered $\div$ number of sends attempted) to ensure your list is healthy & subscribers are receiving your messages
 - Also monitor unsubscribes, spam complaints & bounces to ensure you have a good reputation among inbox providers (i.e. Gmail, Yahoo)
- Revenue & Orders Placed
 - Your email platform may be able to track the number of purchases made from an email. Attribution methodologies differ across platforms and settings

List Health

List Health Tips

- Don't buy lists
 - Ensure you have permission to communicate with all of your subscribers
 - If you do acquire an email list legally, explain how you received the person's email address (i.e. what partner provided it) and require an active opt-in before emailing again
- Email consistently
 - Try to send 2-3 emails per month to maintain a good sender reputation & ensure you land in the inbox
- Clean your list periodically
 - Remove subscribers who have not engaged in over 1 year
 - Send win-back or permission-gathering campaigns to subscribers who have not engaged in 9-12 months
 - The more engaged your list is, the less likely you'll end up in the spam folder
- Follow all CAN-SPAM regulations (penalties can reach $43,280 per email!)
 - Don't use false or misleading header information (i.e. from line, reply-to address)
 - Don't use deceptive subject lines
 - Identify the message as an ad
 - Include your valid physical postal address
 - Tell recipients how to opt out of receiving future email from you & honor opt-out requests promptly.
 - Monitor what others are doing on your behalf

How to get people on your email list (when you're a small business)

- Website Options

- Include a sign-up form in the footer
- Use a pop-up with a sign-up offer

- Require an email address for a purchase

- Provide an option for purchasers to sign up for marketing communications as well as order notifications

- Social Media

- Create advertisements encouraging people to sign up for your newsletters
- Encourage followers to sign up for newsletters through an organic post

- Offline Methods

- Collect email addresses at checkout
- Promote email sign-ups while at events
