

Provide the corresponding Use Case diagram for each scenario listed :

Social Media Application

- Users can register, log in, and reset their passwords.
- Admins can manage user accounts (e.g., suspend or delete accounts).
- Users can create posts, edit posts, and delete posts.
- Users can share posts with followers or specific groups.
- Users can like/dislike posts and add comments.
- Moderators can remove inappropriate comments.
- Users can send private messages to other users.
- Users can block/unblock other users from messaging them.
- Users can send friend requests, accept/reject requests, and unfriend others.
- Users can view their friends' profiles.

E-Commerce System

- Customers can search for products by name, category, or price range.
- Customers can filter results based on ratings, availability, etc.
- Customers can add/remove items to/from their cart.
- Customers can view the total cost of items in the cart.
- Customers can place orders and track their delivery status.
- Admins can update order statuses (e.g., shipped, delivered).
- Customers can pay using credit cards, PayPal, or cash on delivery.
- The system validates payment details and generates receipts.
- Customers can leave reviews and ratings for purchased products.
- Admins can moderate reviews to ensure compliance.

Healthcare System

- Patients can book, reschedule, or cancel appointments.
- Doctors can view their appointment schedules.
- Doctors can view and update patients' medical records.
- Patients can access their own medical history.
- Doctors can write prescriptions for patients.
- Pharmacists can verify prescriptions and dispense medications.
- Patients can pay bills online or submit insurance claims.
- Admin staff can process payments and claims.

- Patients can trigger emergency alerts.
- Hospitals can respond to alerts and dispatch ambulances.

Education System

- Students can browse available courses and enroll in them.
- Instructors can manage course details (e.g., syllabus, schedule).
- Assignment Submission and Grading
- Students can submit assignments by deadlines.
- Instructors can grade assignments and provide feedback.
- Teachers can mark student attendance for classes.
- Students can view their attendance records.
- Admins can schedule exams and allocate exam halls.
- Students can view their exam results after grading.
- Students can borrow, renew, or return library books.
- Librarians can manage book inventory and issue fines for overdue books.